Deep reflections on Surah Ash-Shura and its great meanings

Surah Ash-Shura reminds us that revelation is the source of guidance, and that mutual consultation is a faith-based ethic that refines opinion and protects a community from authoritarian decision-making.

These reflections explore mercy, answering God's call, the unity of the prophetic message, and how faith builds a community that consults with justice and kindness.

Readers are invited to make consultation a method at home, at work, and in society—seeking what pleases God and benefits people.
